

Fluency with Alice

Workbook to Accompany Snyder's Fluency with Information Technology, 4th Edition

by Robert Seidman, Philip Funk, Jim Isaak, Lundy Lewis

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS & AFFILIATIONS

Acknowledgments

We greatly admire and appreciate Larry Snyder for his excellent textbook, Fluency with Information Technology. His work was our main inspiration. Our thanks go to the National Research Council for setting the skills, concepts and capabilities fluency standards. Our grateful appreciation goes to the Alice team at Carnegie Mellon University, and in particular Randy Pausch, for helping to make computer programming fun! We acknowledge and thank the students and our faculty colleagues at Southern New Hampshire University who test drove some of our early chapter drafts.

Our heartfelt thanks to our spouses: Robin, Jane, Leonora, and Dottie.

Robert Seidman
Phil Funk
Jim Isaak
Lundy Lewis

Manchester, NH
July 2008

Alice: <http://Alice.org>

National Research Council (1999). Being fluent with information technology. Washington, D.C: The National Academy Press. Retrieved July 15, 2008, from The National Academy Press:
http://books.nap.edu/catalog.php?record_id=6482#toc

Snyder, L. (2011). Fluency with information technology: Skills, concepts, & capabilities, 4e. Boston: Addison Wesley.

Affiliations

Dr. Robert H. Seidman, Professor of Computer & Information Technology
Professor Phil Funk, Associate Professor of Computer & Information Technology
Professor Jim Isaak, Assistant Professor of Computer & Information Technology
Dr. Lundy Lewis, Professor of Computer & Information Technology

All at Southern New Hampshire University, Manchester, NH 03106 USA <http://snhu.edu>